

Richard G. Young

8902 Glenbrook Rd.

Fairfax, VA 22031

Born in and graduated from high school in Hutchinson, Kansas. Graduated from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, NY, in 1958; served three years in the Navy; worked as a searcher, patent agent and patent attorney for Beale and Jones, Washington, DC. Received LL.B. from Georgetown University Law Center in 1965, and joined the DC firm of Browne, Schuyler and Beveridge in 1967. Retired in 2000 from its successor firm, Beveridge, DeGrandi, Weilacher and Young. Was engaged in general patent practice, primarily in mechanical and general fields, including advising clients on patent infringement and validity matters, obtaining and enforcing patents, serving as expert witness, and various trademark matters.